2022 MAZDA CX-5 GETS MODEST PRICE BUMP, BIG UPDATE

Sean Tucker

As automakers roll out next year's models, we're accustomed to reporting on price increases. Even in an ordinary year, inflation in the cost of parts means a slight bump in the cost of most cars. This year, supply chain challenges have meant inflation is a front-page story.

Still, Mazda has managed to give its CX-5 compact SUV a significant update for 2022 with only a modest price increase. It's an impressive feat for Mazda's best-selling model. The CX-5 currently sits near the top of KBB's list of the Best Small SUVs. It's known for premium materials at a reasonable price and is arguably the most fun-to-drive model in its class.

Prices go up by just $530 for the base model. At the highest trim level, the Turbo Signature, the price has actually dropped by $80.

ALL-WHEEL DRIVE NOW STANDARD

But the price increase is an illusion for many buyers. The 2021 CX-5 came in both front- and all-wheel-drive (AWD), with buyers charged an additional $1,400 for

2022 MAZDA CX-30 MAKES AWD LESS EXPENSIVE, ADDS CARBON EDITION TRIM

Jacob Oliva

Mazda releases details for the 2022 CX-30. Standard all-wheel drivetrain headlines the updates for the new model year. This isn't a surprise as Mazda already announced that i-Activ AWD will be standard on all Mazda crossovers.

Removing the front-wheel-drive option on the 2022 Mazda CX-30 naturally increases the crossover's base price. However, comparing the 2022 CX-30 S, S Select, and S Preferred AWD models versus similarly equipped 2021 counterparts reveals a price decline of up to $1,250. This makes the all-paw version less expensive than before, which should be good news for those shopping around for an AWD crossover.

Sans destination charges, the base 2022 CX-30 S has an MSRP of $22,200 – a huge price drop versus the $23,450 price tag of the 2021 model with the AWD option. The story's the same with S Select ($24,600) and S Preferred ($27,650) variants, letting AWD

SCHWARTZ MAZDA LIFETIME WARRANTY PROTECTION

When you purchase a Mazda, you can feel confident in knowing that you're the proud, new owner of a quality vehicle. Other dealerships may promise that their vehicles are solid, in great shape, and without problems, but our dealership warrants the engine of this vehicle with a Lifetime Engine Limited Warranty. For more information, contact our Service Dept.

MAZDA TIRE PROGRAM

If you purchase 4 tires from Schwartz Mazda, you have a free tire rotation for life.

Most tires come with a 24-month Road Hazard Coverage.

This includes the following:

- 100% replacement the first year
- 50% replacement the second year
- Flat tire repair coverage (up to $20 per occurrence)

AWD models. This year, Mazda will build the CX-5 only with power going to all four wheels. Prices have gone up by less than the cost of the AWD upgrade.

TWEAKS INSIDE AND OUT

Other changes for 2022 include small tweaks to the look. A new front fascia includes an updated mesh grille framed with sharper trim (Mazda calls it a "signature wing that extends outward from the front grille") and narrower headlights with rectangular LEDs. A redesigned liftgate sits above larger tailpipes.

Inside, the seats are the news. Mazda says they've been reshaped to offer both greater stability and more road-trip comfort.

MORE POWER FOR TURBO MODELS

The 2.5-liter inline 4-cylinder engine of the base model is unchanged, still putting down 187 horsepower. But the optional turbocharged version gets a 6-horsepower boost, now making 256 – but only on premium fuel. On regular octane, it's still good for the same 227 as last year.

Engineers have also retuned the 6-speed automatic transmission to provide more power early in acceleration, tightened the frame, and changed suspension damping to reduce road noise.

The 2022 CX-5 should reach dealerships in February.

10 TIPS TO WINTERIZE YOUR CAR

- 1) Make sure your car has been recently serviced for an oil change and fluid level inspection.
- 2) Have your battery tested to be sure it can hold a charge. And while you're at the service garage, have them remove any battery corrosion.

crossover shoppers save $850 and $200 versus last year, respectively.

However, going for the top-spec naturally aspirated 2022 CX-30 S Premium trim records a $400 price bump to $30,500 when compared to a similarly specced outgoing model.

Turbocharged CX-30 models, which come standard with i-Activ AWD last year, do receive a price bump of up to $350. The 2022 CX-30 Turbo is priced at $30,200, Turbo Premium at $32,800, and Turbo Premium Plus at $34,400.

Joining the 2022 Mazda CX-30 range is the Carbon Edition, priced at $28,290. Introduced on the Mazda3, the CX-30 Carbon Edition is based on the S Preferred variant. It exclusively comes in Polymetal Gray exterior paint, accented by black 18-inch aluminum-alloy wheels and gloss black heated door mirrors. The cabin gets red leather seats and interior trims.

Of note, the new Platinum Quartz Metallic paint option is now available on all but the base S and Carbon Edition trims. Mazda now considers Polymetal Gray paint as a premium paint option for an additional $395. It joins the ranks of Soul Red Crystal, Machine Gray, and Snowflake White Pearl Mica as paid paint choices for this year.

The 2022 Mazda CX-30 models will start arriving in dealerships in early February.

3) Have a professional check your antifreeze. If needed, have your antifreeze replaced before the start of the winter season.

4) As part of an overall inspection, have a professional check your car's belts, hoses, and spark plugs to help avoid a breakdown in cold winter temperatures.

5) Replace your wiper blades and keep a spare pair in your car. When windshield wipers wear down, they can cause water smears on the windshield and become more dangerous for winter drives. To prevent wear, use an ice scraper to clear ice from your windshield rather than your wipers. It's also important to ensure your wiper fluid is freeze resistant and that you keep extra wiper fluid in your vehicle.

6) Check your tire pressure. Many cars alert the owner when air is needed due to weather fluctuations, but it never hurts to keep a gauge handy. Your owner's manual will recommend appropriate tire pressure for various driving conditions. Remember, cold weather can cause tires to deflate.

7) Don't wait until the last minute to purchase snow tires. If you live in rural areas where roads are less likely to be cleared, it's especially important to get snow tires as soon as possible.

8) Test your 4-wheel drive. Since you likely haven't used it since last winter, check this setting now so you're prepared for the first snow storm of the year.

9) Try to maintain a full tank of gas, especially in freezing conditions. A full tank may help prevent frozen gas lines and other headaches. It may also keep you warm while you wait for roadside rescue in the event of a weather emergency.

10) Pack an emergency kit for each car in your household. We recommend having these things on hand:

- Flashlight (with spare batteries)
- First-aid kit - in your car at all times
- Spare tire
- Tools – If you need to change a tire, you'll need a little bit of assistance
- Car escape hammer – It's small, but it could save your life. One end can be used to cut your seatbelt, while the other end can be used to break your window
- Emergency warning triangle – In the event that you need to pull over for an vehicle in like-new condition. Our friendly service staff and high-tech service facility set us apart from other lesser quality centers for car repair. Make an online service appointment or give us a call to schedule your maintenance or car repair. We look forward to serving you!
