BRAND-NEW 2023 MAZDA CX-50 EARNS IIHS TOP SAFETY PICK PLUS AWARD

by Amanda Cline

Mazda has done it again with the newest SUV in the lineup. The 2023 Mazda CX-50 went through testing with the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) and received the Top Safety Pick Plus award for this year. If you are just looking for the 2023 Mazda CX-50 price range, buyers will pay between $27,550 and $42,300.

In case you missed it, the 2023 Mazda CX-50 is fresh off the production line. As modern vehicles do, the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) put the SUV through its routine testing. The Mazda CX-50 is an IIHS 2022 Top Safety Pick Plus award winner, the highest award currently offered.

In 2022, the IIHS Top Safety Pick criteria received an update. There are six crashworthiness tests that vehicles have to earn a rating of "good" to qualify. Mazda's newest SUV received that high score on all of the tests.

Vehicles must get an advanced or superior rating for available front crash prevention, both the vehicle-to-vehicle and vehicle-to-pedestrian evaluations. In

IS THE 2023 MAZDA CX-5 THE BEST NEW SMALL SUV FOR THE MONEY?

by Charles Singh -edited

The 2023 Mazda CX-5 competes with the best small SUVs in its segment. The 2023 CX-5 is affordable and comes with plenty of standard features. It offers even more value at upper trim levels. Is the 2023 Mazda CX-5 the best new small SUV for the money?

The 2023 Mazda CX-5 is incredibly affordable! The 2023 Mazda CX-5 starts at just $26,700 (before destination charges and additional fees). Its price increased by only $450 (from $26,250) for the 2023 model year. Edmunds expects the 2023 Toyota RAV4 to start at around $28,000. The 2023 Honda CR-V starts at $31,110.

The CX-5 is one of the more affordable small SUV models, like the 2023 Kia Sportage and the 2023 Hyundai Tucson. The 2023 Kia Sportage starts at $25,990. The 2023 Hyundai Tucson starts at $26,450.

The Mazda CX-5 is affordable considering the long list of standard features it includes. Its value proposition is one of the many reasons why the CX-5 competes with the best small SUVs in its class.

addition, acceptable or good scores on the standard headlights.

The 2023 Mazda CX-50 received high scores in crash avoidance and mitigation. The 2.5 Turbo trim, 2.5 Turbo Premium trim, and the 2.5 Turbo Premium Plus trim have LED projector headlights that earned the SUV a higher score. Both the low beams and high beams offered good visibility for drivers. High-beam assist helped compensate where the headlights fell short.

Many other trim levels, including the 2.5 S Select, Preferred, and Premium trims, also use LED projector lights. However, these aren't curve-adaptive, which led to a lower score of "acceptable." Overall, that's still pretty good for a brand-new SUV.

Criteria for these safety awards have changed dramatically in the last year, which has tripped up some of the usual award winners. Mazda got it right the first time with this 2023 CX-50 SUV.

This new sport utility vehicle is suitable for families. The SUV also receives the highest score in the seat belt reminder category. The reminder was long enough, had a loud enough volume, and offered a suitable initiation time.

The CX-50 received a high score for the child seat attachment (LATCH) hardware for the child seat anchors. Testing confirmed that car seats could be anchored correctly in the back row.

Those interested in buying a safe new vehicle will be pleased with the 2023 Mazda CX-50.

SCHWARTZ TRUCK CENTER – THE #1 DISTRIBUTOR OR DUAL-TECH ROLLBACKS

The Mazda CX-5 comes standard with all-wheel drive. It also comes with Mazda Radar Cruise Control with Stop and Go. This feature is ideal for driving in areas with a moderate flow of traffic. It's an advanced form of cruise control that simplifies the small SUV's driving experience.

The CX-5 includes standard power side mirrors with LED turn signals and automatic rain-sensing windshield wipers. The Mazda CX-5 comes with hill launch assist, blind-spot monitoring with rear cross-traffic alert, and advanced smart city brake support with pedestrian detection. It features lane-keep assist, a lane-departure warning system, and a tire pressure monitoring system.

The base model Mazda CX-5 2.5 S comes standard with push-button start, a remote keyless entry system, and 12-volt power outlets. It also features a leather-wrapped steering wheel, a leather-wrapped gear selector, and a 10.25-inch infotainment system display.

The 2023 Mazda CX-5 uses a 2.5-liter four-cylinder engine to make 187 horsepower. The small SUV achieves 24 miles per gallon in the city and 30 miles per gallon on the highway. The Mazda CX-5's power output is similar to most small SUVs in its vehicle segment. If you're looking for a comfortable small SUV with plenty of standard tech, the 2023 CX-5 is the way to go.
